

Candidate name: Josh Egan

KCDG: #2399

PDGA: #149158

Education: B.S. in Chemistry from Kansas State

Occupation: Lab Technician for an environmental analysis company

Year of Birth: 1986

How to contact Josh: Facebook messenger (preferred) or degan21@gmail.com

Disc Golf Experience (including the year you first played):

I first played in either 2006, or 2007, at Tuttle in Manhattan, KS. The disc golf bug instantly affected me. At Tuttle (a course in a state park), I would carry a trash bag with me, because I wanted to leave the park cleaner than I found it. I would fill the bag on the front 9, empty it, and refill it on the back 9. I got away from that altruistic behavior when I moved to KC. That is, until my mom passed away. The only place that the world still seemed OK was on a course; where my thoughts were only on the next throw. I started playing with some members of Rogue, and began pulling DU trash to gain my membership. I realized then that I had missed giving something back to the sport; and it has become increasingly important for me to do so, as the sport gave me solace when I needed it most. I have continued to pull DU trash for nearly 2 years now, at regular intervals of 3-5 weeks. I recently pulled roughly 40 bags of trash, and various other items, from Cliff Drive because I wanted others to see the course for the beauty that I know it has.

Professional Experience:

I have no experience in a position such as this, but I'm a quick study. I'm meticulous and organized in nature. I'm a lab rat, which to me means that I work best alone, but still do really well in a team setting. I am capable of communicating with professional tact, when appropriate, both written and verbally. As the youngest of 4, I have exceptional patience when it comes to dealing with other people.

Josh's Platform:

I have a desire to give back to the sport in whatever way I can. Thus far, that has basically just been by cleaning up after people. I'm eager to find out how broad the spectrum can be, though.